

UA in UK: C&IS

May 16 – 25, 2024 (May Interim Course)

Overview:

UA in UK: C&IS is a cultural immersion program focused on studying COM 220 Interpersonal Communication. Students who have already earned COM 220 credit are eligible to enroll in an independent study, COM 436, to develop their own advanced exploration of interpersonal communication. As a class of 10 students we will study interpersonal communication while traveling to London, England and Edinburgh, Scotland whilst earning three credit hours. The class takes place May 16-25 2024.

Tentative Summary Schedule:

Thursday, May 16	Depart United States
Friday, May 17	Arrive in London
Saturday, May 18	London tour to Bath and explore Stonehenge
Sunday, May 19	London
Monday, May 20	London
Tuesday, May 21	Depart London for Edinburgh
Wednesday, May 22	Edinburgh
Thursday, May 23	Lochness & Scottish Highlands
Friday, May 24	Edinburgh
Saturday, May 25	Depart Edinburgh

Program Cost:

The approximate cost of the program (including tuition) is $5,000. Included in the program fee is transportation to group excursions, welcome dinner, farewell dinner, and lodging. Not included in the program fee are student flights, daily meals, and excursions students may want to experience on flexible days.

Course Information:

COM 220: Interpersonal Communication with Dr. Darrin Griffin (3 credit hours); students who have already earned COM 220 hours are eligible to enroll in COM 436: Independent Study. This is a May Interim course that requires a pre-trip Zoom class meeting and travel from May 16-25th. Some course components, e.g., assessments course will utilize Blackboard.
